WHAT IS CANNABIDIOL

CBD is the shortened term for cannabidiol. This substance is one of the main chemical constituents of cannabis. Hemp and cannabis contain cannabinoids that are known to have effects on the human body's endocannabinoid system. While some chemicals such as THC are known to cause euphoria, as well as other medical uses, CBD works on the body without causing the same type of intoxication as THC.

CBD has been shown to have several effects on humans and animals through scientific research. To name a few, CBD is known to relieve
